

The boutique full-service marketplace agency for brands between $1M–$20M

Most brands at this stage are leaving money on Walmart. Some have ad spend that is draining margin on Amazon. Usually it is both. SellTru manages the full account on both platforms, not just the ads.

ABOUT ANDREW DERAMO

Andrew has been managing Amazon and Walmart accounts for over seven years across consumer goods, health and wellness, sports, food and beverage, and publishing. Over $150M in marketplace sales managed. The brands he works with are doing real revenue and need someone who can actually run the account, not just report on it.

SellTru is small on purpose. Andrew manages every account himself. You talk to him, not a coordinator.

SUGAR PLUM WALMART FULL ACCOUNT MANAGEMENT

$1K → $150K+ / month

Grew Sugar Plum's Walmart monthly revenue from $1,000 to over $150,000 through account structure and promotional strategy before running a single paid Walmart ad. Brand was doing $250K/month on Walmart at peak.

Most Amazon sellers at this revenue level have never touched Walmart Connect. The CPCs are lower. The competition is thinner. The customers are different from your Amazon buyers, so it is incremental revenue, not cannibalization.

WHY SELLTRU

- ✓ Most agencies added Walmart because clients asked for it. We built a proper Walmart practice from the ground up. Different strategy, different account structure. Not the same campaigns copy-pasted over.
- ✓ You talk to Andrew. Not a coordinator, not a junior account manager. The person on the sales call is the person running your account.
- ✓ We keep the client roster small. If we are at capacity, we say so. We do not take on clients we cannot serve well.
- ✓ Reports tell you what changed, why, and what is happening next. Not impressions and CTR with no context.
